Binary Options Trading

Binary options (BO) trading offers you the opportunity to speculate on the price fluctuation of an underlying asset by either buying 'Call' or selling 'Put' within your preferred time frame. With a 'Call' option, you predict that the price of the asset will rise and with a 'Put' option you predict that the price of the asset will fall.

This is different from other type of investments where you purchase assets and must monitor your account to protect it from market volatility. With BO trading, you trade future price movements of the market for a predetermined time frame.
